

Jamie Lou Hornbaker, State Farm Agent

Jamie launched her State Farm business in 2013 when she purchased accounts from a retiring agent. Jamie has tripled her business and added employees to meet the needs of her customers. The agency has received public and private recognition for outstanding service and commitment to their community.

Jamie received a BA in Mass Media with a minor in English from Washburn University. She enjoyed her previous work doing public relations and marketing with the United Way of Greater Topeka and the Topeka YWCA. Jamie is committed to volunteering for nonprofits such as HCCI to help people meet their housing and financial goals. She shares her life experiences as a single mom and high school drop out in hope of inspiring others facing adversity to keep inching forward.

Jamie and her husband, Matt, and daughter and son live near Berryton. Their oldest daughter attends Kansas State University. Their family enjoys actively volunteering for and supporting community events and projects, their four-legged animals and cheering on KU and K-State.
